Her Majesty Queen Margrethe II’s 75th birthday

NEW PORTRAIT OF QUEEN MARGRETHE II

On special occasions in the Royal House, Danmarks Nationalbank will issue a commemorative coin.

Her Majesty the Queen’s 75th birthday on 16 April 2015 is a special occasion, and therefore a 500 krone silver coin will be issued and a 20 krone coin will be issued and put into general circulation.

By choice of the Queen, the portrait has a personal focus showing a private side of the Queen without tiara or jewelry.

The obverse of the coin has been modeled by medalist Henrik Wiberg at Danmarks Nationalbank. As something new, he has chosen to show a beautiful, natural and personal portrait of the Queen in three quarters profile. The Queen has a present look with a thoughtful and proud view into both the past and future.

The reverse has been designed by senior graphic designer Jeanette Skov Jensen at Danmarks Nationalbank. She has designed a personal coin inspired by the Queen’s beautiful watercolors with motives from Denmark.

The motif changes between horizon and vertical lines, the weather, and daytime and seasons – and as “an extra layer” the Queen’s personal signature is shown.
